The man who lost his life in Iraq, now lives in Birmingham.

Wars such as Iraq have resulted in many victims. For some their battle scars are invisible psychological illnesses.

They carry the mental scars around with them, affecting their employment, family and friends. Many become tragic victims of alcohol, drug abuse, homelessness, some become suicidal. If you are reading this as an ex-Service man or woman and you think, 'this sounds like me' or you know someone ex-Service who is suffering, please contact us on:

Working in Partnership

Barnardo's are very excited to be working in partnership with LCO during their 09/10 season, creating real opportunities for children and young people to engage in music. Both organisations benefit immensely from the support of HRH The Duchess of Cornwall who is President of Barnardo's and Patron of the London Chamber Orchestra.

As one of the UK's leading children's charities, Barnardo's believes in children regardless of their circumstances, gender, race, disability or behaviour. We believe in the abused, the vulnerable, the forgotten and the neglected. We will support them, stand up for them and bring out the best in each and every child. We do this because we believe in children.

Barnardo's works directly with over 100,000 children, young people and their families every year. We run 383 vital projects across the UK, including counselling for children who have been abused, fostering and adoption services, vocational training and disability inclusion groups.
