A GROUP OF LIKE-MINDED INDIVIDUALS WHO ARE PASSIONATE ABOUT CLASSICAL MUSIC AND WANT TO PLAY THEIR PART IN KEEPING THE ART FORM ALIVE AND RELEVANT TO TODAY'S AUDIENCES

The Club will also provide its members with a much richer and deeper experience of the life of the orchestra, as well as unique insights into the music that LCO performs, the composers behind the music, the evolution of music and instruments over the years and the broader social and cultural context within which different pieces were composed. Club members will be invited to a range of events throughout the season, both linked to the main concerts and organised separately, often in private homes or other venues that are not normally open to the general public. The generous financial contributions of the Club Members will support the orchestra's core costs, enabling it to continue to fulfil its mission to bring live classical music to the widest possible audiences, including children and young people from disadvantaged backgrounds.
